frederick.morris@leonard.com

Fred Morris is the former chair of Leonard, Street and Deinard's Product Liability and Tort Litigation practice group. While a significant portion of his practice has concerned tort and commercial litigation involving manufactured products, he also has been lead counsel in employment, patent licensing, contract, ERISA, medical malpractice, franchise, and civil rights litigation. Because of his extensive jury trial experience, Fred has been retained to assist with the trial of patent and trademark infringement cases tried to juries. In addition, Fred has been the lead counsel in several complex class action cases. He has appeared before state or federal courts in more than 35 states, several state or federal appellate courts, and the U.S. Supreme Court.

Fred has been asked to participate as a faculty member in regional NITA programs and in trial practice courses given at law schools in the Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan area. He is a contributor to Dr. Donald E. Vinson's book Jury Persuasion: Psychological Strategies and Trial Techniques (Prentice Hall Law & Business, 1993). In recognition of his jury trial experience and regard among his peers, Fred has been admitted into the American Board of Trial Advocates and the International Society of Barristers. He has been named among The Best Lawyers in America in both commercial litigation and product liability litigation, and has been selected for inclusion in Super Lawyers®.
